

Meet Greg Calhoun:

Your Klansman Neighbor

Meet your neighbor Gregory Todd “Thor” Calhoun, a Ku Klux Klan leader who lives at 4712 Collard Valley Road in Cedartown, GA. Greg Calhoun is in your neighborhood organizing for violence against people of color, Jewish people, sexual minorities, and others he views as enemies.

Calhoun is leader of the International Keystone Knights of the KKK in Georgia. He also travels out-of-state for Klan and neo-Nazi gatherings, attempting to coordinate the white power movement regionally.

Calhoun has stated that soon it will be time to “strike” and “eradicate” those he considers enemies of the white race, in particular “Jews and n[]s.”

Greg Calhoun was part of the Aryan Nations before switching to the International Keystone Knights. The Aryan Nations gave birth to the terrorist group “The Order” in the 1980s. Aryan Nations also believe in the “religion” of Christian Identity -- in which Jews are portrayed as the spawn of Satan, and people of color as less than fully human.

Calhoun’s wife Susan Jodette “Jodi” Calhoun is also a white power organizer. Jodi describes herself as a “LOTIE” which stands for “Lady of the Invisible Empire.”

Greg Calhoun has tried to hold white supremacist events locally, such as attempting to host an all-day Klan event in Rockmart GA.

We believe that Calhoun is a real danger to those who live nearby. Warn your friends and neighbors.
